

BEEF MARKET OVERLOADED!

By the Boycott.

We are very glad to quote much lower prices for this week, owing to the beef houses being overloaded, due to the small demand for fresh meats.

We certainly are in favor of lower prices than we have had, and trust the market quotations will keep on a lower level.

The reports from Hot Springs, Va., where Highway Commissioner J. H.

fect that there is a marked improvement in his condition and that there is every indication that he will resume his duties fully restored to health.

most encouraging.

When the laymen's missionary convention was held in Hartford, there was a demand from other nearby cities for similar meetings, so the national committee has arranged to hold others at New Haven, February 12 to 14; at New London, February 19 to 21; at Bridgeport, February 26 to 28, and at Springfield, March 19 to 26.

During Friday's meeting of state assessors with Tax Commissioner Corbin, Hartford, Mr. Corbin said that the pay of tax officials was altogether too small, and cited an instance of a town which paid its assessors only 66 cents a day. The commissioner advised a diet based on compensation and not a lump salary.

Through the efforts of our field worker and organizer, Ernest A. Smith of Norwich, we are beginning to notice some of new life and vigor and col-

No one has identified the body of a man found on Plum Island, Saturday, evidently a seafaring man, of middle age, well dressed and an American.

The body was brought to New London, where it is being held. There was nothing to indicate foul play.

Among the things in the pockets of the man's clothing was a gold watch made by a western watch company.

In view of the extent to which the practice of placing loose coins in the boxes of rural patrons has grown, and the delay in the delivery and collection of mail and the hardship imposed on carriers incident thereto, postmasters have received instructions that beginning February 15th, patrons on rural delivery routes must enclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securally in paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes. Carriers will be required to lift such coins, and where accompanied by mail for despatch attach the requisite stamps.

Haven railroad train at Tarts two years ago. The foot was removed at the ankle, but the wound did not heal.
